

STATE RESTS CASE; ARBUCKLE DEFENSE GREATLY SURPRISED

Failed to Get Chance to Cross - Examine Mrs.
Delmont.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
San Francisco, Sept. 28.—The defense in the preliminary hearing of the case of Mrs. Arbuckle, charged with the murder of Miss Virginia Ramey, announced that it was prepared to commence its efforts to clear the motion picture comedian when Police Judge Sylvain J. Lazarus' court resumed late today.

The prosecution completed its presentation of evidence yesterday without having called Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, complaining witness, and this move on the part of the district attorney, Matthew Brady, was wholly unexpected by Frank Dominguez of Los Angeles, chief of the Arbuckle defense staff.

Assistant District Attorney Isadore Golden told the court that Mrs. Delmont would not be summoned by the prosecution. Dominguez was on his feet instantly and demanded that she be produced.

"In the interests of truth and justice we demand it," he told the court. "We demand that Mrs. Delmont be put on the stand that we may cross-examine her. She is the person who swore to the warrant. She is the chief witness. I never heard of a case in which the complainant was not produced."

Denied Dismissal.
Judge Lazarus told the prosecution it was not necessary to have Mrs. Delmont testify, but warned that they were risking the chance of having the complaint dismissed. Later he denied a motion of the defense to quash the charge against the screen comedian and then court adjourned until this afternoon.

Should Judge Lazarus decide that the comedian be freed of the murder charge he will face a charge of manslaughter by the grand jury in connection with Miss Ramey's death.

There is also a possibility that Arbuckle will be prosecuted for alleged violation of the prohibition law. E. Forrest Mitchell, California federal prohibition director, is conducting an investigation and on its completion, according to Robert H. McCormack, assistant to the United States attorney general, the liquor angle of the case will be brought before a federal grand jury.

McCormack in a statement last night declared that he was withholding grand jury action pending a full report from Mitchell. He has intimated that in the course of his investigation of the liquor supply alleged to have been consumed at the Arbuckle party he has uncovered a whiskey smuggling traffic between Mexico and San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Farm Hand Charged with Watch Theft

Ray Davis, who claims St. Louis as his home, was arrested in Amboy yesterday morning and locked up in the city jail, following the issuing of a warrant in Justice Grover Gehant's court, in which George Albrecht of Bradford township charged Davis with stealing a gold watch. Deputy Phillips went to Amboy and brought Davis to Dixon last evening and he was arraigned before the justice and held to the grand jury under bonds of $2,000 on a charge of larceny.

The gold watch taken from the Albrecht farm home, where Davis was employed for four days and a watch fob and bracelet taken from the Panik-hurst home at Temperance Hill where he had also been employed, were found hidden in the lock up at Amboy and turned over to the sheriff. In default of bond Davis was remanded to the county jail.

Small Delays Last Word on Wanderer

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 28.—Carl Wanderer's fate believed yesterday to have been sealed when the pardon board recommended denial of clemency, being by a narrow thread today when Governor Small withheld final decision on the case after hearing an eleven hour appeal from W. D. Bartholomew, attorney for the former soldier convicted of murdering his wife, her unborn babe and a "ragged stranger" and sentenced to die on the gallows next Friday.

Governor Small intimated that he will hear additional arguments for Wanderer before saying the final word on Bartholomew's plea.

25,000 Families in Chicago Plan Moving

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—25,000 Chicago families will participate in the semi-annual moving day, next Saturday, Oct. 1, according to statistics announced today by the gas and telephone companies. The gas company reports 25,233 "turnouts" ordered as compared with 24,012 last year.

J. R. Patterson of the Tenants' Protective League, however, insists that fewer families will move Saturday than last year and says tenants are refusing to pay rent advances asked by landlords. He says there are 800 vacant apartments here at present.

HOWAT LOSES; MINERS ORDER STRIKERS BACK

Convention Backs President Lewis' Decision Today.

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—Howat, in a statement later indicated he would not obey the convention decision. He said: "The action taken by the convention is not going to alter our position in the least. We are standing as we have from the beginning and the only way we will advise the men to return to work is under the same customs and conditions that prevailed before the mines were closed by the operators."

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas miners, was directed today by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, to order strikers at the Dean and Reliance mines to return to work. The convention decision became a certainty before the polling of the delegates was complete.

Unofficial figures gave a majority against Howat when the Alabama delegates threw most of their votes to the administration recommendation favoring the order for resumption of work. At that time about six hundred more votes remained to be cast, but the margin for the order, it was said, exceeded this figure.

The delegates were unaware that a final decision had been reached and made no demonstration, the halloting continuing.

Delegates supporting the administration in its recommendation for resumption of work by strikers at two Kansas coal mines seemed confident of victory when the voting was resumed today.

Alexander Howat, the Kansas leader and opponent of the recommendation of international officers, was short by 230 votes of an even footing with the administration forces, and the roll call started with District 17, comprising Western and Southern West Virginia, which, in caucus, had pledged support to the administration.

The New River (West Virginia) district also had taken a similar pledge and the combined voting strength of these two districts was about 100 less than five hundred more votes needed by the administration for a majority. Administration leaders also counted on support from several other districts and predicted their victory would be a majority of at least 600 votes.

SCAN LAKE MICHIGAN FOR LIQUOR RUNNER FROM CANADA TODAY

Chicago Authorities in Investigation of Strange Launch.

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—Two carloads of liquor, shunted to a railroad slip near the mouth of the Chicago river during the night, were seized today by police.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—Police are scanning the lake today for a liquor runner from Canada who is believed to have escaped early this morning during a fog after ten men with four motor trucks had been arrested while waiting at a river slip at the foot of east South Water street.

A fifty foot cruising launch appeared off the slip shortly after the arrests were made but the crew apparently became suspicious and after signaling to the shore with a lantern and failing to get a return signal, put out into the lake again.

The men arrested are Robert and Harry Pfeiffer, owners of a South Side garage, and eight of their employees.

Questioning of witnesses and police-men from the Grand Crossing police district is to take place today, according to Charles F. Cline, United States district attorney investigating allegations by Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris that 2,500 of Chicago's 5,000 policemen are involved in liquor law violations. The inquiry is in connection with reports that police were delivering liquor from this station in a patrol wagon and charging $5 extra per case for a uniformed escort, Mr. Cline said.

Authorities also were investigating a theory that all the policemen involved in the liquor law violations here were members of one big liquor ring whose operations extended over the entire country.

REMARKABLY STRONG TEAM READY TO OPEN FOR AMERICAN LEGION

Fans Show Interest in
First Game Sunday
Afternoon.

Football fans of Dixon and vicinity are awaiting with great interest the opening of the 1921 season of the local American Legion eleven next Sunday at Brown's field when Prophetstown will journey to this city to raise the curtain on the football season. The Prophetstown team is by no means a weak team, that city having supported a strong eleven for many seasons. In fact they are rated as among the best in this section of the state and have played some of the strongest teams in northern Illinois.

The local Legion team has been going through some stiff workouts for the opening game. Sunday several hundred fans watched Coach Dixon and his company of 25 huskies go through the most strenuous practice of the season. The former members of the team have lost none of their aggressiveness and the new candidates exhibit the best of ability.

To Have Strong Line
Long, Shrock, Kirby, Allen and several other probable candidates were given a trial at the end positions. Moore, Sterling, Bloom and Kennedy have made remarkable showings at the tackle positions. At guard Altenderfer, Gardner, Cackley, and several other good linemen are due to qualify for regular positions. Coach Dixon will again be seen at the position of center which he so ably filled last season.

The back field is exceptionally strong and is the outstanding feature of the entire team. Vaughan, Hess, Gillilan, Gorham and Douglas are candidates for the quarter positions. The latter is a former member of the Norwich college team of Vermont and is one of the more promising candidates. Heinze is also to be given a trial at quarter.

The field is to be laid out and marked out tomorrow in readiness for Sunday's game. A wire fence is being built around the field which will keep the gridiron clear of spectators during the progress of all games. The additional stand along the south side of the park is in course of construction and it is expected that it will be in readiness for the first contest, with seating accommodation for 800 people.

Warn Housewives Against Fair Blue- eyed Counterfeiter

Local housewives are warned to watch out for a refined looking young woman with clear blue eyes and dark brown hair, wearing a dark blue tail, or made suit with brown hat turned up on one side, who asserts she is in search of a cozy room, accepts the first one proffered and presents what purports to be a ten-dollar bill as advance payment for the first week.

The chances are that the bill is a one-dollar greenback which the young woman caller has cleverly raised to a ten-spot.

She has been working Quincy, Ill., with this stunt and has fooled a number of landladies there. She makes a specialty of landladies and operates almost all the time between the hours of 8 and 9 a. m., according to Police Chief T. D. Ryan of Quincy, who sends the warning, in the expectation that she started for the northern part of the state after leaving Quincy. Scratching the one-dollar bill until a white "O" is made and the bill takes on the appearance of a tenner is the system employed by the young woman. Uncle Sam is very desirous of getting his grip on the clever female.

Swiss Aeronaut is Winner of Contest

Father Foley Gets Auto from Members of His Congregation

Rev. Michael Foley of St. Patrick's Catholic church was very happily remembered by his parishioners this week, when they presented him with a handsome Oldsmobile touring car, in remembrance of his birthday. The genial priest says he plans to learn to operate the car himself.

Turn Leslie Thomas Over to His Family

Leslie Thomas, a former patient at the Bartonville state asylum, who was taken in custody by the sheriff at Nelson six weeks ago, was turned over to his family this morning. His mother and a sister from Williams-ville, Ill., came to Dixon and took him back home with them.

CHINA IS NOT OVERLOOKING ANY BETS

KIWANIANS IN GREAT MEETING; ATTENDANCE BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Stirring Address By International Secretary Feature of Meet.

The Dixon Kiwanis club entertained a record crowd at the regular noon luncheon and weekly meeting yesterday, delegations being present from DeKalb, Geneseo and Clinton. The largest delegation came from DeKalb about 25 members of that club making the trip and having as their guest Senator Harry G. Wright. Clinton, Ia., arrived at the noon hour with about a dozen Kiwanians, chief among them being "Spud" Bales, formerly of Dixon. Geneseo was represented by a delegation of four members.

During the lunch hour, Dick Sorenson, a song leader and pianist, Wright of DeKalb, kept things lively, introducing numerous novel stunts. Much enthusiasm was injected into the meeting by the presence of the visiting clubs, all of whom proved themselves real boosters and strong Kiwanians.

Name Steering Committee
A brief business meeting was held, at which time President Leland appointed a special steering committee, consisting of Ray Kline, Howard Wheeler, Louis Pitcher, Oliver Rogers, Willard Thompson and W. F. Strong to provide for the sending of a large delegation from Dixon to the state Kiwanis convention at Aurora in November. A report of the playground committee was submitted by Chairman Charles Keyes.

Representatives from the visiting clubs were then called upon for short talks. The president of the Geneseo club was the first to be heard from and as president of that organization, related briefly the activities started in their city through Kiwanis and the interest manifested in civic matters for the betterment of the community.

No Interest in Sterling
President Howe of the Clinton Kiwanis organization in a brief manner told of efforts being made to establish similar clubs at both Morrison and Sterling, where interest appeared to be on the decline. He solicited co-operation of the Dixon Kiwanians in bringing about the organization of clubs in both of the cities west of here explaining the advantages to be gained through the clubs.

Ed Raymond of the DeKalb club was in the midst of a very eloquent address when the guest of honor, Samuel O. Cummings, retiring international secretary arrived in the dining room, which was filled almost to its capacity. The visitor was welcomed with a hearty Kiwanis song and was seated. Rev. W. W. Thrall, pastor of the Methodist church of this city, who leaves soon to accept a responsible charge at Knoxville, Tenn., was heard in a final talk. He has been a tireless worker in the local club and the heartiest wishes of the club membership for his success in his new field were extended by President Leland.

The guest of honor, Sam O. Cummings was then introduced and heard in a rousing, true Kiwanis talk. Among the many interesting and forceful remarks made by the retiring international secretary, he said:

Kiwanis an Idea
"Kiwanis is more than an organization, it is an idea. In Kiwanis is

TRAINMEN VOTE TO STRIKE BUT HEADS OPPOSE

Men Against Accepting Recent Wage Cut As Ordered.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, is expected here to confer today with general chairman and other officers of the order regarding the situation growing out of the strike ballot taken by the organization.

The counting of the ballots of 185,000 trainmen will be completed tomorrow, it is expected.

James Murdock, vice president, said today that the vote as far as tabulating, showed the men unanimously opposed to continuing work at the reduced wages, effective July 1, on authorization of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

Mr. Murdock said, however, that even if the vote of the men favors a strike, it will be up to the grievance committees to take final action. Meetings of the grievance committees will be called when the result of the vote is made known.

Counting of the votes of other brotherhoods will start next Monday with the arrival here of the officers and general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America. Local officials said reports indicate 250,000 members of these organizations will support the strike movement.

Wreckers Busy at Camp as Army Goes

Camp Grant is "witting" away under the wrecker's attack. With the gradual departure of troops from the cantonment, civilian forces are taking possession of the hundreds of buildings recently sold at auction and are tearing them down to salvage the lumber, plumbing and other materials.

Work is progressing most rapidly in the north area where the dismantling of barracks has begun on a large scale.

NINETEEN SYSTEMS OF RAILROADS ARE OUTLINED BY I. C. C.

Tentative Plans to Consolidate All Lines Are Announced.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Sept. 28.—With a view to expediting action on the peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary and on tax revision legislation, Republican leaders planned today to put through a program calling not only for night sessions of the senate but for the beginning of the day sessions an hour earlier than usual. The tax bill would be considered during the day and the treaties at night.

Aside from the tax measure and the treaties, many other measures of importance are awaiting action before the beginning of the regular session, early in December. There is an agreement to vote on the Panama Canal tolls repeal bill on Oct. 10 and Senator Sterling, Republican of South Dakota, in charge of the beer bill, has given notice after the tax bill and the treaties are out of the way he will insist that the conference report on the beer measure be disposed of without interruption.

Railroad Refunding
Other matters pending includes railroad refunding bill and the measure authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to fund long time securities, the debts owed the United States by its former associates in the World War.

After the tax bill is passed, Senator Penrose plans to have his committee resume consideration of the permanent tariff bill. Since it is now practically certain that this measure will not be brought out until the regular session, there is discussion of continuing the emergency tariff law until the permanent act is assured. The emergency law expires on Nov. 27, and representatives of agricultural interests already have asked that the finance committee report a bill continuing its life.

Senator Penrose hopes to have within two or three weeks some of the data now being assembled by experts on the plan to fix the American valuation of imports as the basis for determining the duties, but all of it probably will not be in hand for six weeks or two months. Hearings on the tariff measure probably will be resumed late next month or early in November.

Illinois Central May Double-Track Long Cairo Bridge

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cairo, Ill., Sept. 28.—The application of the Illinois Central Railroad to double track its bridge across the Ohio river here at a cost estimated at $3,500,000 was considered today by War Department representatives.

Vice President A. S. Baldwin of the Illinois Central Railroad arrived here last evening to attend the hearing. The work of reconstruction, according to Mr. Baldwin, will take four or five years. He said the railroad would not consider the suggestion that wagon bridge facilities be provided.

It was necessary to apply to the War Department for permission to reconstruct the bridge as government engineers will be forced to close a portion of the river channel while the proposed work is in progress.

Double tracking the Cairo bridge is the only artery of the Illinois Central and the Mobile & Ohio Railroad between the north and south.

The bridge is said to be the longest of its type in the world.

ACQUITTED ON ONE CHARGE DIX IS RE-ARRESTED

Taken for Jail Delivery as Jury Reported.

Fred C. Dix, indicted by the September grand jury on charges of taking indecent liberties with a female minor child, was found not guilty by a jury in the circuit court yesterday. Dix was represented very ably during his trial, which was the first on the criminal docket, by Attorneys Sherwood Dixon and Lloyd Scriven.

Immediately following the reading of the verdict by Circuit Clerk E. S. Rosencrans and while the jury was being dismissed, Sheriff Frank Schoenholtz, re-arrested Dix before he had an opportunity to exchange congratulations with his counselors. He was turned over to the county jail for escaping from that place last June.

Dix was arraigned before Justice Martin Gannon last evening at 8 o'clock on a charge of committing a prison breach, which was sworn out by Sheriff Frank Schoenholtz. The case was continued and Dix returned to the county jail, to allow his attorneys to investigate.

NIGHT SESSIONS IN SENATE PLANNED TO DISPOSE OF MATTERS

WIFE AND OTHER MAN TRACED TO DIXON BY IRATE IOWA HUSBAND

"Elopers" Apprehended in This City; Man is in County Jail.

A. J. Wardrop, alias Archie Walters was held to the January grand jury last evening on a statutory charge of adultery, by Justice Martin J. Gannon. Wardrop defaulted in the furnishing of $1000 bonds and was taken to the county jail.

Wardrop's arrest followed the arrival in this city of James Gannon of Des Moines, Ia., yesterday noon, who went to the police station and told the officers that his wife, Rena Gannon, had taken their four year old daughter and left him at Des Moines a year ago last August. He had been unable to trace her until recently when she visited relatives in Des Moines and he then learned that she was living in Dixon with a man named Walters.

Gannon suspected that the name Walters was a fictitious one and that Wardrop was the man with whom his wife was living. Late in the afternoon the police had succeeded in locating Wardrop, Mrs. Gannon and daughter in the east end of the city where they were living as man and wife and their arrest followed. Gannon was indignant that both Wardrop and his wife be prosecuted to full extent of the law.

Woman Sent Home
All went to the office of State's Attorney Mark C. Keller where the case was related. Justice Gannon was called in and a charge of adultery was lodged against Wardrop who is now in the county jail in default of $1000 bonds. The justice ordered Mrs. Gannon to return to her parents in Des Moines with her four year old daughter, the woman abiding by his ruling and departing this morning.

Her husband was not satisfied with the action, however, and told the police last evening that he was going to report, where he would go before the federal commissioner and charge both Wardrop and Mrs. Gannon with violation of the Mann act. Wardrop is alleged to have deserted his wife and a small child in the west to run away with the Canton woman of Des Moines, bringing her to this city.

His death resulted from a short illness with peritonitis. The deceased was born in Dixon, Sept. 24, 1869, receiving his education in the public schools here.

About 16 years ago he went to Chicago, where he entered the employ of the Marshall Field company, later going with the Carson Pirie Scott company. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Horner. They with two children and one brother having preceded him in death. Those surviving to mourn his death are his four sisters, Mrs. Charles Barron, Mrs. G. B. Lindeman, Mrs. J. L. Poffenberger, and Miss Hattie Horner, all of Dixon, and one brother, Charles, of Chicago. Ephraim Horner of this city and a large circle of friends also survive.

The funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the G. B. Lindeman home, Rev. Lloyd Walters officiating and with burial in the Emmert cemetery.

Los Angeles Starts Fight to Clean Out Undesirable Actors

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Sept. 28.—Fight for cleaner motion pictures marked by threats that some motion picture companies might leave southern California if hampered, reached a climax when the city council voted yesterday to instruct the city attorney to prepare an ordinance creating a motion picture commission of seven members to regulate the exhibition of films in Los Angeles.

Opponents of censorship protested that such action would sound the death knell of the motion picture industry here. Proponents of censorship asserted it was necessary that the "menace to American childhood in uncensored pictures be removed."

Cemetery Alleys Ordered Vacated

The city council last evening passed the ordinance providing for the vacation of certain alley ways in Oakwood cemetery. A petition from John Valle to erect an electric sign was referred to the department of public health and safety. Claims against the city in the sum of $155.85 were read and allowed.

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Corn Prices Set New Low Record

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—New setbacks in the price of wheat took place today chiefly as a result of apparent lack of confidence on the buying side. Acute weakness of German marks was an unsettling factor and so too was uneasiness regarding the British situation. Furthermore, bears continued to stress accumulating domestic stocks. Opening quotations which varied from 3/4c decline to 1/4c advance, with Dec. 1.23 1/4 to 1.23 3/4 and May 1.27 to 1.27 1/4, were followed by material downturns all around.

Subsequently, lack of sustained European demand tended to keep a majority of traders bearish, notwithstanding word of active export business with the Orient. The close was heavy, 2 1/4 to 2 3/4 net lower, with Dec. 1.20 1/4 to 1.21 and May 1.25 1/4 to 1.25 3/4.

New low price records for the season were touched by September and December corn. Country offerings were reported as liberal. After opening unchangeable to 3/4c lower, including Dec. at 51 1/4 to 51 3/4, the market underwent a general sag.

Oats weakened with other cereals, starting unchanged to 3/4c higher, Dec. 37 1/4 and then sagging losses for all months.

Higher prices on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

For the first time in 1921 Sept. corn went under 50c and later falling below any price which Sept. had reached since 1912. The close was weak, 5/8 to 1 1/4 net lower, with Dec. at 50 1/4 to 50 3/4.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

"YED" BACKS PROTEST.
Editor Evening Telegraph—I was delighted to learn that Dixon Post, No. 299, Department of Illinois, Grand Army of the Republic, had entered at its last session, a protest against the expenditure of $5,000 for bronze tablets to be placed on the walls of the lower corridor of the court house, bearing the names of the gallant soldiers of Lee county, who served their country in the Mexican War of the Rebellion, (not a war between the states as many are trying to make you believe, but a war for the preservation of the Union, the success of which made it possible to furnish men for the Spanish-American and the late World war.)

Five thousand dollars would be inadequate to memorialize the valor of the men who went from Dixon or any of the townships in Lee county in any of the wars named. If bronze tablets should be installed, you would have to use a searchlight to find the names and after discovery it would require a powerful magnifier to read the names appearing on the same. If we are to have a remembrance for the loyal sons of Lee county, let us have one that the people could point to with pride or none at all. By one who did not serve in Illinois, but who volunteered 1861, discharged June, 1865, and a resident of Dixon for 15 years.

the religion of business. Kiwanis is helping to elevate and raise the business morals of North America. It is helping to place business on a high plane of service to humanity instead of the business alone; it is lifting the optimistic tendencies out of the lives of business men and Kiwanis is helping to lift business men out of an old and well worn rut.

"Any organization in any community developing real lasting friendships is the organization for that community to tie to and that is exactly the thing that the Kiwanis movement is doing in every city, town or village where a club is organized. The Kiwanis idea is not new ideas but are as old as the age of man. The thing that is new is that Kiwanis is putting idealism to work. Each member has a sense of responsibility to the community in which he lives and to his fellow man. Kiwanis is a sort of laboratory to the field of human experience. Beside being an asset to the individual it is an asset to the community. Every opportunity of civic service is an open challenge to Kiwanis toward constructive service."

The speaker briefly told of the growth of the Kiwanis idea in the United States and Canada, the increase in membership from a few hundred to several thousand and the gospel of uplift, fellowship and the constructive service attained by every club in existence.

On Thursday, Sept. 29, at one o'clock, at 306 E. River Street, the property of the U. S. Cab Co. will be sold. Consists of 7 1/2 H. P. Motor; band saw; rip saw; mortice and tenon machines, shaper, benches, belts, shafting, etc.

ALL IN THE STATE OF MIND—

If you think you are beaten, you are. If you think that you dare not, you don't.

If you like to win, but think that you can't.

It's almost a "cinch" you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you've lost.

For out in the world, you find.

Success begins with a fellow's will—

It's all in the state of mind.

Pull many a race is lost.

See even a step is run.

And many a coward fails.

See even his work's begun.

Think big, and your deeds will grow.

Think small, and you'll fall behind.

Think that you can and you will—

It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are outclassed, you are.

You've got to think high to rise;

You've got to be sure of yourself, before

you can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go

To the stronger or faster man.

But soon or late the man who wins

Is the fellow who thinks he can.

—Author, Unknown.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED—

You will greet the patronesses at a formal dance as you enter the ball

room, but you will not consider it a quint to take formal leave of them. A pleasant "good night" if they are near, should suffice.

You will enclose the wedding in-

itation which you are sending in two envelopes. The outer one may be larger and is usually of not quite the

costly fabric of the inner one, which must match the invitation. The inner envelope is not sealed and has on it

only the name of the one for whom it is intended. The outer one, which is sealed and stamped, bears the full address.

You will immediately join the amusement your hostess has arranged instead of standing back and looking on

and thus seeming unappreciative of her thought of you.

RECEPTION FOR DR. THRALL

GREAT SUCCESS—

The reception given last evening by

the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church for Dr. V. W. Thrall and family, was very well attended, and

proved a most successful and enjoyable affair.

The church parlors had been beautifully and effectively decorated for

the occasion by the young men of the

Epworth League. The lights were

shaded with autumn leaves, in russet,

gold and crimson, bouquets of cut

flowers added their fragrance and

beauty and the centerpiece in the reception room of foliage plants was exceptionally pretty.

The short and entertaining program

was furnished by the Sunday school.

The Sunday school orchestra played

several enjoyable numbers and Mrs.

L. N. Deutsch gave two entertaining

readings. Miss Lois Keyes gave a sweet vocal solo. All these numbers

were greatly enjoyed and heartily applauded.

Prof. L. B. Neighbour in behalf of the Ladies' Aid society of the church presented to Rev. and Mrs. Thrall, an electric grill. Prof. Neighbour, was especially gracious in his presentation

of the gift to the pastor and his wife,

and his address was replete with hum-

or, and at times it also expressed regret, for although Dr. Thrall and his wife have been in Dixon but a comparatively short time, they have been

exceptionally popular and beloved and

will be sadly missed on leaving. Dr.

Thrall leaves to accept the pastorate of a large Methodist charge at Knoxville,

Tenn. Dr. and Mrs. Thrall both express much appreciation for the handsome gift.

After the program, the members of

the Missionary societies of the church

served delicious refreshments, and a very pleasant social hour was spent by

all, closing a delightful evening.

FLAG PRESENTED TO LUTHERAN

ORPHANAGE—

The ladies of the Auxiliary to the American Legion presented a flag to the Nachusa Lutheran Orphanage yester-

day. There were twenty-five ladies

from the Auxiliary present.

The exercises were held in the assembly room at the Orphanage, and

were opened by the children singing

the first verse to the Star-Spangled Banner.

Mrs. Viola Strub, president of the Auxiliary, made a few opening remarks and recited the lovely poem,

"The Flag that Looks Like a Flower."

Mrs. Lloyd Lewis presented the handsome flag, 8x12, also giving the history of the flag, and its description,

telling of how the first flag was made

by Betsy Ross.

Mrs. Stevens then recited the beautiful poem, "The Toast to the Flag."

Mrs. Anna Moore recited "Illinois,"

and then Rev. Stuhl, superintendent

at the Orphanage, gave an address expressing his appreciation and

telling how glad the children were to receive the flag.

The children then gave the salute to the flag and repeated the pledge, and

the exercises were completed with the singing of a few verses of "America."

The afternoon was a pleasant and profitable one for all.

DEKALB—

The Misses Frances Busby and

Maryann Garrison have returned

where they visited at the homes of

dinner given by Miss Lipp, followed

by progressive card parties given by

the Misses Lillian Willett and Gladys

Hurd. There were also several theatre, dancing and motor parties in hon-

or of the Dixon young ladies who returned home after having enjoyed a most delightful visit.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS TO BE

State Federation of Women's clubs,

President, Mrs. Eberole, of Sterling,

will be present at the first meeting of

YOUTH

When you are discouraged or have the blues, think of the graveyard. In a twinkling, you will brighten up, be glad you are alive at any price.

Life is sweet. Scientists say that man some day will live to an average of at least 150 years. No doubt, they think that is good news.

But is it?
Much as you love life, would you care to live to 150? If so, how about 200, 300 or 1000?

Most old folks, who live beyond 90,
go to death with a smile on their lips.
They have tasted life in all its forms. Weary, they yearn for the hereafter.

At what age does the vaudeville
show called life, become monotonous?
Talk it over with grandpa.

Numas De Cugna, famous in Hindu
history, died at Bengal in 1556, when he was 370 years old.

It's too bad there is no record left
of him except tradition. What answer
do you think you'd get if you could call Numas up on the ouija board and ask him this?

"Numas, at that age did you weary of life? When did the stupidity of humans, making the same mistakes
century after century, begin to get on your nerves? How did it seem to find all your friends dead, time after time
while you stayed on? If you had to live again on earth wouldn't 100 years
be enough?"

Numas probably would say, "I
found my life interesting at times,
even in old age. But the first 30
years, my youth, were better than all
the 340 years that followed."

Youth is life—all of life that is really worth living. Years that follow may be interesting, but they would be dull without the thrills that come from the memories of youth.

Conrad summed it all up in an al-
legorical story about the sea of life
when journey's end is in sight:

"Ah! The good old time—the good old time! Youth and the sea. Glamour and the sea! The good, strong sea, the salt, bitter sea, that could whisper to you and roar at you and
knock your breath out of you."

"By all that's wonderful, it is the sea, I believe, the sea itself—or is it
youth alone? Who can tell? But you here—you all had something out of life: money, love—whatever one gets
on shore—and, tell me, wasn't that
the best time, that time when we were young at sea; young and had
nothing, on the sea that gives nothing
except hard knocks—and sometimes a chance to feel your strength?"

THE WEAK LINK

What do you think of real estate
so valuable that, to get a clear title
to it, owners pay $10,000 an inch?

That happened in New York, on the site of the New Hotel Commonwealth.
Surveyors discovered that actual
measurement added two more inches
of ground on the Broadway side of the property than the deeds called for.

The original faulty deed was drawn up in Civil War days. Since then,
the land had changed hands 16
times: It was necessary for every one of those 16 parties, their heirs
or estates, to sign away every possible
interest in the two inches, before the Commonwealth title could be secure.

Otherwise, some heir might come along later, lay claim to the two-inch strip and compel the tearing down of that part of the hotel on his claim.

To clear up the title took three years. Lawyers had to travel to Europe,
to San Francisco and other cities
to see former owners. A nun in a convent was one whose signature
was necessary.

Expenses of these trips totaled $20,000.

A load of grain was destroyed
by fire in Kansas City, Mo. The owner, J. Stanley Smith, dup up his insurance policy.

But a comma was missing in this phrase of the policy: "Grain in cars
on side track within 100 feet of the elevator."

Smith insisted that the comma belonged after the word "track." But courts held that the comma belonged after the word "cars."

That comma's absence cost Mr.
Smith $7000 insurance.

Hereafter he will keep a closer eye
on little things.

Most of the nuisances and pests of life are "little things."

Many of the biggest problems in your life originate with trivialities
improperly handled.

The blacksmith forged a mighty chain, but left a weak link. That one link caused the ship to break from its anchor in a storm and drift to destruction on a reef.

So can a career, a home, an important undertaking, a life's work be wrecked—by a "little thing."

Keep your eye on the big problems.
But don't overlook the details. Be thorough in everything you undertake.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well CLOTHES AND HEALTH

BY R. H. BISHOP JR., M. D.

Next to proper food, proper dress is
of great importance in the preservation and maintenance of good health.

Most people think it is the clothing
that bestows the heat by keeping cold
out. The fact is the clothing regulates
the amount of heat allowed to escape
from the body. Of course, clothing
does defend the body against the external influences of wind and cold,
too.

Clothing, no matter of what material,
possesses more or less power of retaining a layer of air kept warm
by our bodies. This layer of air varies according to the fineness and closeness
of the weave of the material used.

One of the best ways to catch pneumonia is through careless dressing.

Both in summer and winter we have
the tendency to overclothe ourselves,
which is just as harmful as not enough
clothing. Overclothing one's self renders the skin over-sensitive, so that when it is subjected to sudden ex-posure it is unable to stand it and we
"catch cold."

To help make your body strong only

the minimum amount of clothing that will secure warmth should be worn.

Woolens protect most, but they require the least exercise of the temperature-regulating apparatus of the body. The wool becomes saturated with the perspiration, which it holds,
to the disadvantage of the skin.

Therefore, woolen clothing should be confined to outer garments, such as overcoats, designed especially for cold weather. Fur coats make the skin over-sensitive.

Outer clothing should be adapted to
the changes of the weather and medium-weight underclothing should be worn throughout the winter season.

Those not comfortable in linen mesh underwear might wear lightweight
woolen of silk over cotton.

Office workers, school children and
those employed indoors during the day
work almost always in a summer temperature. The wearing of heavy underclothing under such conditions is debilitating. It lowers the powers of resistance so that they can "catch"
diseases easily.

Light colored garments are cooler
in summer and warmer in winter
than dark ones.

Thick garments of the same material
are warmer than the thin because they retain in their meshes a greater
quantity of heated air.

Loose clothing is warmer than tight
clothing, so also with shoes and
gloves, there is a larger layer of heated
air between the skin and the material. The circulation of the blood
is freer, too.

The material of the clothing should
be such as to allow free perspiration
from the skin. We sweat in winter
as well as summer, but the sweat is in the form of vapor and is invisible.

CAUGHT AT LAST

"Oh, ho!" cried Cap'n Pennywinkle,
when he saw the Twins returning
with the fish net. "I never was so glad to see anyone in my life! We'll have to get Tub Terrapin out of this
at once, only he's done so much damage already that it's like locking the
stable door after the horse has run
off. But he ought to be punished
and I know of no better way than the fish net. It's the only thing he's out his head and his tail and all four feet together, struggling for dear life

to get down onto the sand again.

"No, you don't Tub," Cap'n Penny-
winkle warned him. "You've done
your last mischief. Look at poor Spike Starfish that you've been lying
on. You've broken him right in two.

"That doesn't make any difference,"
scuffed Tubby. "He'll grow again.

afraid of. Just look at him lying
there as snug and bite-proof as a sub-

or the saw fish or anything under the water."

Whether or not Tub heard this conversation, I cannot say, for he lay as still as a pavement, not making the least bit of a sign.

Very quickly and deftly the Twins
slipped the fish net under his edges
and, as they gave a pull on all four corners, up came Tub with a jerk.
He was so surprised that he stuck

pieces and each piece will grow. In about a month, Mr. Spike will be two starfish, and then, what will Mr.
Fisherman say?"

"Mr. Fisherman?" exclaimed Cap'n Pennywinkle, "what's he got to do with it?"

"Well," answered Tubby, "he hates Spike about as well as he likes me
and that's pretty much, if I do say
it, who shouldn't."

WHAT IS DUE US

BY DR. WM. E. BARTON.

If Mr. Harriman was right in saying that he is richest who owes most,
the European nations are very rich.

Great Britain owes the United States four billion of dollars. France
owes us three and one-third billions.
Italy owes us one and two-thirds billions. All together the nations of Europe owe us ten billions of dollars.

They do not have the money. They do not know where to get the money.
They can never pay their debts in money. And with the present balance of trade against them and the cost of exchange it is difficult to see how they can pay us in commodities.

We have had several broad hints to the effect that it would be a very gracious thing for America to give
those sums to the nations of Europe.
We are reminded that we were making money during the first three years
when they were fighting. They would hardly feel like begging that amount of money from us, but if we were disposed to give it, we should probably
have no great difficulty in persuading
Europe to accept it.

Would Europe appreciate the gift?
The answer is not altogether certain.

She would thank us very heartily,
and we should hear of our generosity
in a good many banquets. But it is not certain that Europe would not say
in her heart, "America has given us
only what she could well afford and
less than we deserve."

It is not likely that Congress will vote to cancel these huge debts. How

then are they to be paid?
I do not think that anybody knows
how they are to be paid.

One thing is true, so long as they remain unpaid and unforgiven, there will be one more reminder that war is expensive. The world has had several such reminders, but apparently one
more will do no harm.

WHEN A WOMAN TELLS

By RUTH AGNES ABELING

Chapter LX

STRANGERS CARRY ME AWAY

After a second of oblivion, I was conscious of fighting my way back to the edge of things.

Everything was dark. I was tired,
so tired. I felt as if I was traveling through black velvet shot with stars
—and it was so restful. I had a sensation of looking at my own self, lying there in the damp gravel. I knew instinctively that it was raining lightly, but I could not feel it. I couldn't touch my hand to my face to see if it was damp. They were no longer my hands to move, it seemed. And I felt
no regret.

Suddenly that thing which had been in the back of my mind and
which made me fight so hard for consciousness in the first second, came back a little more plainly—my responsibility in living!

I understood in some vague way
that I had no right to give up my life before it had spun out its thread.
I felt a duty in living, in filling my niche until there should be no more
place for me.

It came to me with a sickening
force that perhaps if I should slip out
now without the fight to get back
that I should be a guest, arrived too
soon.

And in the back of my consciousness was Tom. I wanted him. In spite of the thing which had sent me

out in mental turmoil, in the hour of need, it was plain, his tenderness of which I thought.

I wanted to talk to him to hear him
say that there had been some misunderstanding and that, after all, everything was all right and that he loved me.

So I reached out, consciously, and
gripped my interests in the tangible
world and pulled myself back out of the black velvet and starlight.

I moved. Gradually I got to my feet and staggered dizzily over the road.

An automobile was coming. Would I be able to get out of the way of it, I wondered. Would they see me staggering in the road and turn out, or would I go down once more, I wondered, and this time under the wheels
of a car?

I moved toward the side of the road, lost my footing, in the loose
gravel and swerved toward the high growing weeds.

The car was coming nearer. I could hear voices, men's voices. They struck a new terror in me. I wanted to hide while they passed, for it seemed just then that danger lurked in everything.

The car was stopping. Were they trying to talk to me, I wondered? I screamed. Somebody had taken hold of me. I could hear a masculine voice and against my will I was being

half lead, half carried, toward the automobile.

"Let me go—let me go!" I begged.
But someone was lifting me and I
felt the cushions of the car under me.
Presently the motor gathered speed
and we were whirling through the night.

COMPOUND INTEREST

Bank ads often say that if $1 has been placed at compound interest, in the year 1, it would have grown, by
now, to a sum bigger than all the money in the world.

That must have caught the eye of Alfred V. Lincoln, of Charleston,
Mass. His will provides that $7500
of his estate must be set aside at compound interest for 90 years. Then the total will be drawn out to plant
trees in Lincoln's home town.

At 4 per cent compound interest,
money doubles in 17 years 256 days.
In 90 years, Lincoln's original $7500
will amount to about $250,000.

Shrewdly invested by trustees it may
turn into millions.

One thing, Lincoln overlooked: By
the year 101, man will have a lot of new ideas and may abolish the interest system. The chance, however, is worth taking.

CARLSTROM EXPLAINS TAX BODY'S REQUEST BANK ASSESSMENTS

Says One or Two Counties
May Be Only Ones
Affected.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Alton, Ill., Sept. 28.—Referring to the state tax commission's recent demand upon boards of review in 25 counties for assessment lists, Oscar E. Carlstrom, a member of the commission, declared in an address before the state convention of county clerks, circuit clerks and recorders here today that the order was given for the purpose of obtaining definite information to use as comparisons with figures from a few counties in which the commission had been informed fair assessments on capital stocks of banks had not been made.

Commissioner Carlstrom also said that there would be no great increase in the state tax rate for the present biennium.

"The furor concerning the letter sent out by the commission touching the assessment of capital stock of state and national banks is entirely unfounded," Mr. Carlstrom said, "for the reason that the only purpose of that letter was to obtain fairness between counties on the assessment of those institutions, or call attention to its absence if such proved to be the case."

Hits One or Two Counties
"The commission had been advised that in one or two counties in the state full and fair assessment of this capital stock had not been made. It was expected that in at least 90 per cent of cases fair assessments had been made, but definite information on those counties was necessary for comparison and to clearly determine the extent of any insufficient or inequitable assessment if any such were found."

"There should be no great increase in the state rate for taxes for the present biennial period, and in my judgment there will not be. The increase, if any, is covered almost wholly by increased expenditures for educational purposes. Appropriations for the University of Illinois from $5,500,000 in 1919 to $8,500,000 in 1921. The general state school distributive fund was greatly increased, as well as other appropriations for like purposes, and certainly no one will object to these increases."

"Several millions of dollars were required as emergency deficiency appropriations to carry certain departments of the preceding administration up to July 1, 1921. Nearly $50,000,000 of appropriations were merely technical appropriations from the waterway and road funds, both provided for by constitutional amendments voted several years ago by the people. A fair analysis of the appropriations of the fifty-second general assembly will show, after deducting the governor's veto of nearly $7,000,000, practically no increase of consequence except as noted."

OBITUARY

MARY JANE O'ROURKE.

(Contributed.)
Mary Jane O'Rourke was born at Prophetstown, Ill., Dec. 4, 1856, and died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Edward Campbell at Walton at 4 a. m., Sept. 29, 1921, at the age of 65 years.

She was the oldest daughter of Peter and Mary Lannen, and when a child she moved with her parents to May township, where she grew to womanhood. In February, 1889, she was married to James O'Rourke, who preceded her in death nineteen years ago.

After her marriage she moved to her husband's farm in May township where she remained until about a year ago when failing health forced her to leave her home and go to live with her sisters, who tenderly cared for her in her last illness.

Mrs. O'Rourke was an aunt of the late Attorney Thomas E. Lannen of Wilmette, Ill., whose remains were taken to Amboy for burial the day she passed away.

She was a home-loving woman, kind and charitable, and a host of relatives and friends mourn her loss. Though not blessed with a family of her own she was a mother to many and in her early married life she took to her heart and home two children, Elizabeth Allen, now Mrs. Albert Keyes of Amboy, and Attorney James R. Kelley, formerly city attorney of Amboy, who now resides at Savanna. She reared these two with tender care and watched over them to the day of her death with maternal solicitude and interest.

She was a mother, too, and a guardian to nieces and nephews who at a tender age were bereft of a mother's love and who in their day of sorrow turned to their "Aunt Mary" for sympathy and love. That love and sympathy will stand as a monument to her memory.

She leaves to mourn her death three sisters, Mrs. Edward Campbell, Mrs. Lawrence Dempsey, Sr., and Miss Elizabeth Lannen, all of Walton; and three brothers, B. C. Lannen of Maytown and James Lannen of Amboy. One brother, Thomas Lannen, died four years ago. Besides these she leaves a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's church at Walton, Father Conley officiating, and the remains were laid to rest beside her husband in St. Patrick's cemetery at Amboy. Those from a distance who attended the funeral were: Mrs. Quigley and Mrs. Watkins of Chicago; Mrs. Egan of LaSalle; Mrs. Margaret Shea of Elburn; Miss Kathryn Conahan of Maple Park; Mrs. Frank Adams of Aurora; James R. Kelley of Savanna; Peter Lannen of Orinville, Minn.; James Lannen and family and Dennis Lannen of Aurora; Mrs. Kathryn McMahon of Waukegan; Frank O'Rourke and sister, Anna, of Rochelle, and many friends from Ohio and Dixon.

Attorney Thomas E. Lannen was born at Philadelphia, May 25, 1876, and died at his home at Wilmette, Ill., Sept. 16, 1921. He was the oldest son of Bernard and Margaret Lannen. His mother preceded him in death 22 years before on the same date and hour.

He was united in marriage to Pearl J. Jones of Effingham, Ill., in 1908. Two children were born to this union, Mary Catherine, and Ruth Lannen, who with their mother mourn his loss.

BOND SALESMAN OUT WITH FACTS

Chicago Man Says He Knows from His Own Experience What
Tanlac Will Do.

"Those who are looking for something to sharpen their appetite and give them new life and energy ought to try Tanlac, for I have taken the medicine myself and know what it will do," said Homer H. Dickson, Sherman Hotel, Chicago. Mr. Dickson came to Chicago from Miami, Fla., where he has lived most of his life, and is now connected with the Bond Sales Department of the Hoot Realty Co.

"When I began taking Tanlac I was weak and run down and badly in need of something to build up my system and give me some strength. My appetite had failed me, and even what I managed to eat gave me very little nourishment. I was nervous and restless at night, couldn't sleep well, and had that worn-out, good-for-nothing feeling all during the day. Why, I was so miserable I didn't feel like doing any kind of work."

"About fifteen months ago I began taking Tanlac, and the medicine built me up and made me feel like I wanted to feel. It gave me a fine appetite, set my stomach in order so that my food gave me strength and energy, and I was soon rid of that weak, worn-out feeling and enjoying the best of health. My sleep became sound and refreshing, and I just felt like a man made new. I have been feeling fine ever since, and believe Tanlac will do the work for anyone else."

his parents to Maytown, where he spent his early childhood, and received his early education, later attending school at Amboy. As a child Thomas was of a quiet, studious and ambitious nature, his chief pastime was reading. He determined at an early age to obtain an education, and the success, which he attained as an attorney at the time of his death was won by his determination and perseverance. He was what the world respects, "A Self-Made Man."

He graduated from the Chicago Law School in 1902.

He was one of the first to enlist in the Spanish-American War, being a member of Company G of Dixon.

Mr. Lannen's health began to fail him two years ago, but the ambition and determination, which was so strong in his rise to success, kept him still at his work, and not until he suffered a nervous breakdown in June, did he retire from office work.

His funeral was held in Amboy September 20, 1921, from the home of his sister, Mrs. Edward Powers. The remains were taken to St. Patrick church, where Solemn Requiem Mass, by Rev. F. J. Cullin, celebrant; Father Moore of Harmon, and Father Conley of Walton, as deacon, and sub-deacon of the Mass.

His remains were laid to rest in the family lot, beside his mother, in St. Patrick cemetery, Rockford.

Beside his wife and two little girls, he leaves to mourn his loss his aged father, B. C. Lannen, Sr., of Dupree, S. D., and five brothers and four sisters:

Bernard Lannen, Jr., Dupree, S. D.; James, Dennis, and Charles Lannen of Aurora; Peter Lannen of Orinville, Minn.; Mrs. Edward Powers of Amboy; Mrs. John J. Blackburn and Mrs. Richard Fitzsimmons of Dixon; Mrs. Joseph Patterson of Rockford; also a host of friends, relatives, and business associates.

Those who attended the funeral from out-of-town were: Mr. Hickey, his law partner, of Chicago; Mr. Bond, of

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 27.—A ten months' campaign for "absolute prohibition in Iowa," beginning in Leas county on Oct. 3, and extending across practically every county in the state during the coming fall, winter and spring, was announced today by the Iowa Anti-Saloon League. Heads of the organization say it will be the most comprehensive drive for public sentiment that the league has undertaken in this state.

It is planned that every city of any size in the state will be covered by Sunday meetings in all churches. Conventions will be held in the night, which is being waged against the wet and the present situation as regards bootlegging and booze running in Iowa.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

A prominent physician says that by far the largest number of women's ailments are not surgical ones, that they are not caused by serious displacements, or growths. Symptoms similar in character are often brought about by more simple conditions. We therefore urge every woman who suffers from backache, headaches, bearing down pains, side ache, irregularities, nervous dependency, or weakness to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It acts as a natural restorative and often prevents more serious troubles.—Adv.

THE NEW SILHOUETTE REALLY A STILLOUETTE

FROCK

BRAID
TRIMS
THIS SMART
FROCK

THE silhouette should be called the stillhouette, declares Corinne Lowe, the New York fashion correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. In spite of all the propaganda for the wide, full skirt it was noted at the Paris races that most of the women of fashion retained their narrow petties. It was left to the manikins to exploit the newer mode. Here in New York it is the same. Now comes in the straight up and down things we have been seeing for the past seasons. Only at dances can the American woman be teased into the Victorian modes so enthusiastically sponsored by Lanvin and Poiret.

Bolster Slip-ons.

One might think we women would be tired of these studies in still life, these bolster slip-ons, these frocks with no more plot than a musical comedy. Not so. We have standardized slimmness in this country, and the idea of putting on clothes to make us look fat appeals to us as being no more logical than the efforts of the famous Lewis Carroll here, who "was thinking of a plan to dye his whiskers green and always use so large a fan that they could not be seen." Why put on big, bustling petties to hide the thinness we have so carefully acquired?

The Skirt May Come Back.

Just the same, there are sly, furtive currents in the fashion world which can not be gainsaid. Perhaps after years and years of these attempts to work on our better natures the adult size skirt may win us over. It is doubtful if this coming year will witness the change, however. Full tunics are here, and often the tunic is circular. Indeed, the circular movement launched last Spring is prevailing more and more. Circular flounces are slipped over, on us, and in wraps the influence of this cut is particularly manifest.

A New Silhouette.

Some of the newest evening wraps that have immigrated from Paris mold the shoulders to the elbow, from which point they begin the business of flaring. Here, indeed, is a perfectly new silhouette quite startling after the long, straight capes and the dolman modes of the last few seasons. The yoke is frequently utilized in these new evening wraps to contribute the look of shoulder emaciation. In fact, yokes are a feature of many of the late frocks.

The Sleeve.

The one thing that has not remained still in the silhouette of the frock is the sleeve. Here fashion, always temperamental as an opera singer, has flown from one extreme to the other.

From being a lonely wayfarer with no lodging it could call its own—save perhaps that tiny tent pitched just below the shoulders—the arm has waked up to find itself in one of those Jenny sleeve palaces. This huge sleeve with its accompanying deep armhole will probably be worn all through this season, but even more persuasive is the bell-shaped affair widening from the elbow down. This is encountered constantly on suits, dresses and coats.

—Philadelphia Record.

Try This.

To remove objectionable odors from bottles, perfumes, etc., so that they may be used again I have found that a small quantity of alcohol left in the bottle for 10 or 15 minutes will remove the odor entirely.

The broken and charred remains of a gas mantle is very good to clean and polish gold and silverware. It is far ahead of prepared polishes. Will not injure jewelry. Apply with damp cloth and polish over with dry cloth.

Lemon Pie—in Uncooked Pastry.
Take one large lemon (grated rind and juice), one cup sugar, half a cup milk, two tablespoons corn starch, two tablespoons butter, three eggs (yolks in custard), the whites for meringue, six tablespoons (level) of sugar for the meringue.

Mix together, using the yolks for the custard. Pour into an uncooked crust and bake; when nearly done make the meringue of the whites and the six tablespoons of sugar, put over top and bake until brown. The meringue should be cooked in a slow oven about ten minutes.

Lemon Pie With a Cooked Pastry Shell
Take one cup sugar, one cup of wet light bread, juice of one large lemon, three eggs, butter the size of an egg, six tablespoons of sugar for the meringue.

Remove the crust from fresh bread and dip into a bowl of water until it will take up enough to be wet thoroughly. Squeeze out the water and measure in a cup—not packing too tight. Put the wet bread, sugar, yolks of eggs, lemon juice and butter into a double boiler and cook until thick enough to stand when cut. Pour into a baked crust. Make meringue of the whites and sugar, cover top and bake in a slow oven for ten minutes or until brown. This is my favorite recipe.

Fish Rarebit.

A nice dish for special occasions is a fish rarebit. Melt one teaspoonful of butter, add a few drops of onion juice, a tablespoonful of starch mixed with half a teaspoon of salt and a fourth teaspoon of paprika. Then pour on gradually a cup of milk, three-fourths of a cup of finely chopped cheese and a cup of cold flaked cooked fish. When the cheese is melted add a slightly beaten egg and a tablespoonful of lemon juice. Serve it on crackers.

Meat Loaf.

Two pounds Hamburg steak, one cup ground crackers, one egg, a little sage, one cup milk. Salt and pepper. Bake one hour.

Graham Rolls.

One cup sour milk, one-half molasses, two tablespoons melted lard, one teaspoon of soda, one-fourth teaspoon salt, and graham flour about one and three-fourths cups. You will be surprised to see how good they are without egg or white sugar.

Pumpkin Pie.

One cup of well stewed pumpkin, one and one-fourth cups of sweet milk, a little salt, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon ginger. Sweeten with brown sugar with which has been mixed one tablespoon of flour. You will need no egg.

Secrets

Of course, dear, you will let this go no further!" and the speaker drops her voice mysteriously. Oh, how often are we forced into the position of confidante!

Sometimes it's only a piece of idle gossip; sometimes a secret that does not belong to the speaker, and ought not to be repeated; sometimes a few intimate facts about the speaker's life (and how she wishes she hadn't spoken—afterwards!) Some women discuss their husbands and other relatives, forgetting that those who hang their laundry out on the front lawn get laughed at for their pains!

Preserve us from the woman who has to confide in someone!

But all the same, she will do it, and we've got to listen, and at least simulate a certain amount of interest and sympathy.

The position of confidante is a very difficult one to fill. Often she is an unwilling listener, and dreadfully bored. Sometimes she feels desperately uncomfortable at the spectacle of another woman giving herself away!

But there is one safe maxim that every confidante should remember—never repeat what is said. It may be nothing very touch; on the other hand, it may be just the opposite.

For Bloomers.

Now that so many bloomers are being worn, if mothers will put snap fasteners on elastic it can be taken out when bloomers are being laundered, which will enable quick ironing and also the elastic lasts longer and can be used in different bloomers.

Some Interesting Negligees

FROM Paris comes the word that simplicity of line marks the most charming of the negligees, making possible vivid color combinations and also assuring the wearer of perfect comfort.

One such negligee is of two parts, an underslip and an outer jacket. The underslip is of pale blue crepe de chine, and hangs from a square yoke which is formed by folding wide blue satin ribbon and tacking it at the corner, so that the square is made. This is rather low-necked. The plaited edge of the yoke and allowed to hang unbelted to the floor. The jacket which is worn over this slip is of Georgette crepe and of very pale rose color. It is cut round in the neck and quite high, and is formed by taking a piece of material as long as the distance from one of the wearer's wrists to the other when the arms are outstretched, shoulder high. This piece of fabric is wide enough so that, when folded lengthwise, half the width comes below the wearer's waist.

reach from one hand to the other, thus obviating the necessity of piecing the sleeves, if long sleeves are desired.

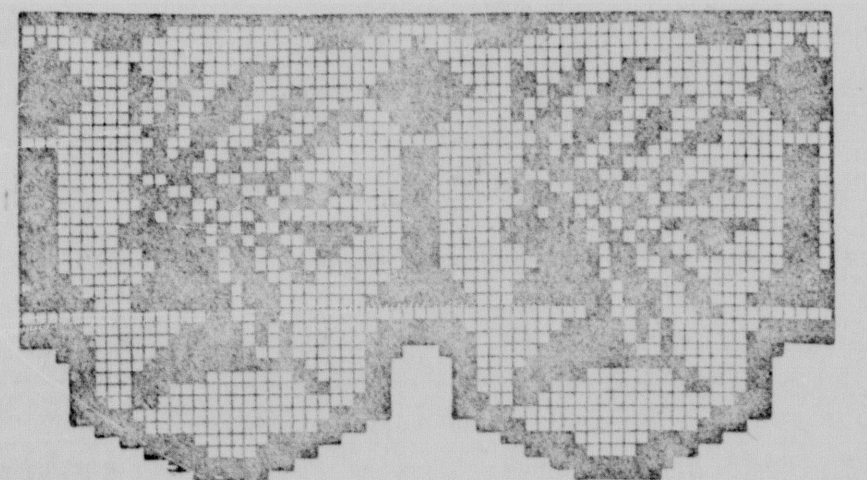

The material is folded so that the front width will come down far enough to lie on the floor for about six inches, and the back width as far on the floor as the train is to be long. The material is sewed together at the edges, leaving room for the hands to emerge, and an opening is cut for the neck. Openings are also cut for the feet in the front width, a slit for each one being sufficient. In this way a very good effect is obtained, as the material drapes well at the feet and the effect is better than when the negligee ends in front at the floor; also, there is less opportunity for the feet to become entangled when one moves about in the latter arrangement. The front width thus lies on the floor behind the feet, held back by the weight of the back width of the negligee.

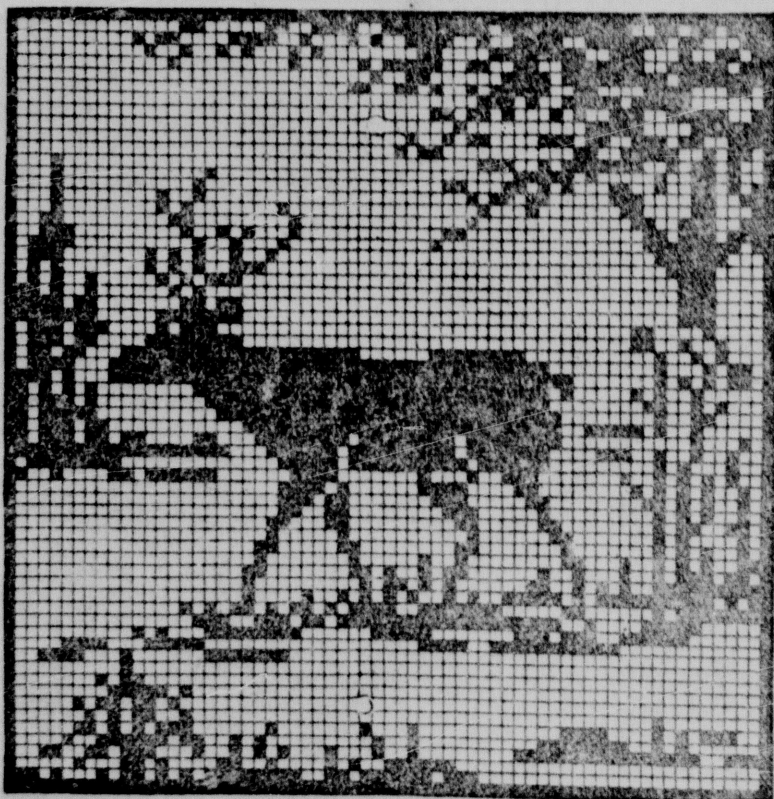

Hooks and eyes can be sewed on evenly and firmly by machine. Just hold them in place and turn the wheel, but be careful not to break the needle. The hooks must be bent, in order to have room for the foot of the machine to pass by. When finished, bend them back into their former shape.

Coat hangers can be made easily and quickly from a newspaper rolled tightly and tied with a piece of twine, leaving a little to hang it up by. This comes in handy when traveling or when on a vacation.

Salt will curdle new milk in preparing porridge, gravies, etc. Salt should not be added until the dish is prepared.

Deaconess Shot By Negro at Galesburg

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 27.—Miss Josephine Peterson, an Episcopal deaconess, was shot and seriously wounded at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Harry Fletcher, negro, when she refused to go into her home with him when he asked her to do so. Miss Peterson was lying in a hammock which hung between two trees a short distance from the house when the negro approached and made his demand. Upon her refusal, he pulled out his gun and shot her.
The negro was captured at 5 o'clock this morning and is now held in the county jail following identification by Miss Peterson.
X-ray pictures were taken this morning at the hospital where Miss Peterson is being cared for, to locate the bullet which is still lodged in her chest. It is said at the hospital that she will probably recover.
Fletcher, who is 22 years of age, has always lived here. He has a clean police record. Authorities say he will face a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.
According to Miss Peterson's statement, she was lying in the hammock when she noticed a man approaching. She said she did not notice he was colored, and thought he was probably an agent. He came to the hammock, she said, pointed a gun at her and ordered her to take him into the house through the back door. She walked slowly, and he grabbed her arm, telling her to hurry. When she told him there were others in the house, she said, he jabbed the gun into her back and fired.
The negro was captured at 5 o'clock near a cemetery about six blocks from Miss Peterson's home. A short barreled "bull-dog" revolver with one shell exploded was found in one of Fletcher's pockets when he was searched by police. The prisoner at first denied having committed the attack but when grilled by Police Chief Hinman made admissions which pointed to his guilt. He was then taken to the hospital where Miss Peterson identified him as her assailant.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Every body uses this preparation now. Because to one can possibly tell that you have used it, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger. It is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BLEACH NIKS HOCY SLOWLY

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.
Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate. Adv.

"Wear Like Iron" Guarantee Isn't Binding Legally

New York, Sept. 27.—When a clothing clerk tells you that a suit will "wear like iron" he shouldn't be taken too literally because his expression is figurative and does not bind his boss as giving a warranty entitling the purchaser to his money back when, after several months of wear, holes make their appearance in the seat of the trousers.

This, in effect, was the decision of three justices of the supreme court, sitting in the appellate term which passes on the judgment of lower tribunals. The ruling was made in an action brought by a customer against a firm of clothing dealers.

The purchaser bought the suit on July 28, 1920. He was given the usual assurance that "it looked good in the front, fitted good in the back" and was "all wool but the buttons." Falling under the charm of the salesman, who assured him the suit would "wear like iron," the customer divested himself of $31.50, and took the suit home. He admitted that he liked the style and the fit, but six months later, when the holes appeared, he took it back and demanded his money. The clothing refused to honor his request and he brought suit in the city court and won. The case was appealed and the clothing won.

Under the law the purchaser must pay the costs. He still has the suit.
